Government to Investigate Where Boards Have Allowed Big Percentage of Claims.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 11. -War department officials are alarmed at the apparent tendency of local draft boards in different parts of the country, particularly in the west, to allow almost every claim for exemption bason dependency. In some cases, it was learned today, draft boards are excluding from military service more than 75 per cent of the total number called for service.

Government officials declare that drastic measures will be taken to prevent such flagrant abuses of the selective service law. Unless local boards are able to certify to the district boards one half of all those called for examination, officials say that the law will not be a success.

One case reported to the government showed that the local board allowed two-thirds of all the claims for exemption filed with it. An investigation will probably be made to ascertain why this board showed such a generous attitude toward the claimants for exemption.

It was estimated here today that under the recent rulings of the department less than one-half of all the married men registered should be exempt, and not more than 10 per cent of all other claims for exemption should be granted.

Indications are that unless more favorable reports are received immediately drastic action will be taken, bee affair is now a closed incident. cording to the men who saw it.

The fact is that big business, which is United States for Capitalism, is more afraid of the I. W. W. than of any other organization. Capitalism watches the Socialists with suspicion and finds it hard to be civil to the American Federation of Labor, but when the I. W. W. appears on the scene big business loses its nerve completely and, like a nervous lady who ees a mouse, jumps on a chair, lifts high its skirts and screams for help and the troops

And editorial opinion in the United States is too largely influenced by a desire to please the "higher ups." This leads to some curious results Early in July the Socialists of Bos-ton held a peace parade, by permission of the mayor. Some 10,000 people took part. Many women with children in their arms marched. Some of the marchers carried small red flags and at the head of the procession was a large American flag.

A mob of men in the uniforms of the army and navy attacked the procession, crossed and criss-crossed through it. They jerked the red flags from the marchers and tore them up, although the red flag is the emblem of our ally, Russia. They captured the big flag at the head of the proces-
